here's a reason Memorial Stadium is the third largest city in Nebraska on game day. There's a reason we've sold out every home game since 1962. It's because hard work, integrity and unity are important—to our football team, and to all Nebraska.

WE STAND FOR GREATNESS, BOTH ON AND OFF THE FIELD.

The same things that lead to athletic success lead to student success—and to life success. Preparation.

Strategy. Practice. These are the precursors to outcomes. To winning. To growing our team, our university, and our state. What happens on the field translates to the classroom, the lab, and the community.

Nebraskans can be proud that their University is focused on life skills that last beyond a student's time with us. We graduate more than 11,000 students each year, and we're not just equipping them with an education—we're building the character, work ethic, and resolve they'll need to succeed as parents, business owners, and community leaders.

Nebraska's best asset is its people. That's how we're going to build our university. That's how we're going to build our team. That's how we're going to build our workforce.

Thank you for your support of the Huskers and the University of Nebraska. Here's to the future!

HUSKERS OPEN 2019 WITH SOUTH ALABAMA

Nebraska kicks off its 130th season today with a matchup against South Alabama.

South Alabama went 3-9 last season but returns 40 letterwinners from last year's squad, including senior running back Tra Minter. The All-Sun Belt pick had a record-breaking season in 2018, setting school records for single-game rushing yards (203) and all-purpose yards (1,803).

However, the Jaguars will have to find a new starting quarterback, marking the sixth straight season that South Alabama will have a different individual serve as the primary starting quarterback.

Nebraska is coming off a 4-8 season, but brings momentum into 2019, as all four wins came in its final six games last fall. The two losses during that stretch were a five-point loss at an Ohio State team that ended the year ranked No. 3 in the nation and a three-point loss at lowa, when the Hawkeyes kicked a game-winning field goal as time expired. Iowa finished with a No. 25 ranking.

FROST SET FOR SECOND SEASON

Scott Frost is set for his second season at Nebraska in 2019. The consensus 2017 national coach of the year, Frost boasts a 23-15 career record in three seasons as a collegiate head coach.

Frost looks to continue a trend of success for Husker coaches in their second season. Each of Nebraska's last five head coaches won at least eight games in their second season, while the four head coaches before Frost all produced their best winning percentage at Nebraska in year two.

Of Frost's 10 assistant coaches, nine have been with him in each of his four seasons as a collegiate head coach dating back to the 2016 season at UCF.

NU OFFENSE MADE BIG STRIDES IN 2018

Despite a new system and a true freshman starting quarterback, Nebraska featured one of the nation's top offenses in 2018. The Huskers were also one of the nation's most improved units.

Nebraska ranked 25th nationally in total offense in 2018, averaging 456.2 yards per game. The Huskers' average was the program's best in six seasons, and Nebraska finished in the top 25 in total offense for the first time since 2008. Additionally, the Huskers eclipsed 500 yards of total offense five times last fall, the program's most games with 500 yards of offense since 2000.

In its eighth season as a member of the Big Ten Conference in 2018, Nebraska posted its highest point total (54 vs. Illinois) and most total yards (659 vs. Minnesota) in a Big Ten game.

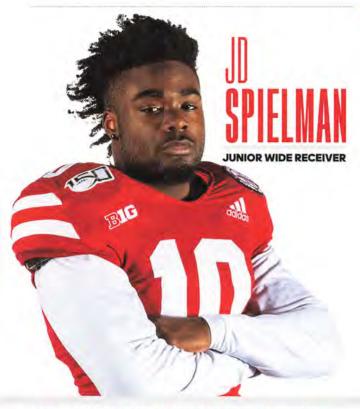

Nebraska averaged 71.2 more yards of total offense per game in 2018 than it did in 2017, which marked the 14th-largest improvement in the country. NU also went from a No. 87 ranking in total offense in 2017 to a No. 25 ranking in 2018, with the 62-spot improvement ranking as the seventh-largest improvement nationally.

A big part of Nebraska's offensive success was an improved rushing attack. The Huskers ranked 28th nationally in rushing in 2018, averaging 209.0 yards per game. In 2017, Nebraska ranked 119th nationally in rushing at 107.5 yards per game. The Huskers ranked second nationally with a 91-spot improvement in the rushing offense rankings and were third nationally with a rushing improvement of 101.5 yards per game from the 2017 to the 2018 season.

MARTINEZ BACK AFTER BIG FRESHMAN YEAR

Adrian Martinez returns for his second season as Nebraska's starting quarterback in 2019 after earning freshman All-America honors in 2018. Martinez started 11 of 12 games last fall, more than all other true freshmen quarterbacks in NU history combined. He led an offense that ranked 25th nationally with an average of 456.2 yards per game. Martinez completed nearly 65 percent of his passes, threw for 2,617 yards and 17 touchdowns and rushed for 629 yards and eight scores.

SPIELMAN AMONG NATION'S TOP WIDEOUTS

In addition to leaving his mark on the Nebraska record books, JD Spielman is one of the top returning receivers in the country in 2019. The two-time All-Big Ten selection has earned a spot on the Biletnikoff Award watch list each of the last two seasons, and he was a freshman All-American in 2017. Spielman has totaled 1,648 receiving yards in 21 career games. That total ranks third nationally among non-seniors. Spielman is one of only five non-seniors who enter the 2019 season with 1,600 career receiving yards, and Spielman is the only member of that quintet who has played fewer than 24 career games.

BOOTLE, BARRY RETURN AFTER BIG SEASONS

Senior inside linebacker Mohamed Barry and junior cornerback Dicaprio Bootle both return in 2019 after breakout seasons in 2018 in which both players earned third-team All-Big Ten recognition.

Barry led NU with 112 tackles in 2018, the most by a Husker since Lavonte David made 133 stops in 2011. Barry was second in the Big Ten and 38th nationally with an average of 9.3 tackles per game, and he is the Big Ten's leading returner in that category. Barry will look to become the sixth Husker to have back-to-back 100-tackle seasons, joining David (2010-11), Barrett Ruud (2003-04), Lee Kunz (1977-78), Clete Pillen (1975-76) and Jerry Murtaugh (1969-70).

Bootle broke up 15 passes in 2018. That total ranked ninth nationally and was the second-highest total in school history.

SOUTH ALABAMA JAGUARS

South Alabama kicks off its 2019 season after finishing with a 3-9 record in 2018. The Jaguars claimed all three of their victories at home last season and finished fourth in the West Division of the Sun Belt Conference.

The Jaguars return their leading rusher from 2018 in Tra Minter. He played in all 12 games and rushed for 801 yards and six touchdowns. Kawaan Baker also returns after a breakout freshman season. Baker ranked second on the team with 251 rushing yards and a team-best nine rushing touchdowns in 2018. The wide receiver is the Jaguars' top returning target as well, after finishing with 494 receiving yards and four touchdowns last season - both ranked second on the team in 2018.

On defense linebacker Nick Mobley, defensive lineman Tyree Turner and safety DJ Daniels are back after starting all 12 games last season. Mobley had 56 tackles to rank third on the team in 2018, while Turner had 51 tackles and a teamhigh 10.0 tackles for loss. Daniels added 41 tackles in 2018.

NEBRASKA VS. SOUTH ALABAMA SERIES HISTORY

Nebraska and South Alabama are meeting for the second time in program history today. The teams also met in Lincoln in 2015. In that game, the Huskers topped the Jaguars, 48-9, behind quarterback Tommy Armstrong Jr. and running back Terrell Newby. Armstrong threw for 270 yards and two touchdowns, while Newby had 198 yards on the ground and a pair of touchdowns.

ABOUT SOUTH ALABAMA FOOTBALL

South Alabama has fielded a football team since 2009, but it played its first season in the FBS in 2011 (Division I-A at the time).

The Jaguars have an 0-2 postseason record, making their last postseason appearance in 2016. South Alabama lost to Air Force in the NOVA Home Loans Arizona Bowl, 45-21.

WISTROM HONORED TO RECEIVE CALL

By Brian Rosenthal, Huskers.com

He took note of the 402 area code, but as most people do nowadays, Grant Wistrom let the phone call go straight to his cell phone's voice mail because he didn't know the number that appeared on his screen.

Wistrom, at the time getting a haircut with his son, later recognized the voice as he played the message.

"When I listened to it," Wistrom said, "it kind of floored me a little bit."

The caller was Nebraska football coach Scott Frost, a former teammate of Wistrom's on the 1996 and 1997 Husker football teams. Frost was informing Wistrom that he'd been selected for induction into the 2019 University of Nebraska Athletics Hall of Fame.

"That was a great way to find out about it," Wistrom said. "It was good to hear his voice, and the news was even that much better."

Wistrom, a two-time All-American, Lombardi Award winner and Big 12 Conference Defensive Player of the Year, is among seven people selected for induction in the University of Nebraska Athletics Hall of Fame, founded in 2015.

He joins track athlete Rhonda Blanford-Green, volleyball and basketball player Greichaly Cepero, gymnast Wes Suter, men's gymnastics coach Francis Allen, cross country and track and field coach Carol Frost and track and field coach Ed Weir.

Had it not been for his father, Wistrom may have ended up a Michigan Wolverine. He took his first recruiting visit to Ann Arbor and had "an amazing experience," saying he would've committed on the spot, except that he promised his dad he wouldn't commit on any visit without first taking all of his visits.

"I just fell in love with the guys I was going to be able to play with for the next four years," Wistrom said. "I knew it was home for me. It just felt right. It was a place I knew I could grow up to become a man and win a lot of football games.

"You don't ever think about winning the national championship three out of four years. We knew we were pretty good, but to do something like that is pretty incredible."

Indeed, Wistrom, who totaled 206 career tackles with 58.5 tackles for loss and 26.5 sacks, helped the Tom Osborne-led Huskers to national titles in 1994, 1995 and 1997, his senior season.

"We were all in," Wistrom said. "Guys were selling out for each other. What we had there, the whole was definitely greater than the sum of the parts."

Wistrom also remembered his position coach for three seasons, Tony Samuel, and defensive coordinator Charlie McBride.

"He could not have been more of a contrast to Charlie McBride," Wistrom said of Samuel. "You've got this Virgin Islands guy, totally laid back, just never raises his voice, never yells. And you go from that to Charlie McBride, who's exactly what an old football coach should be like in everything that's good about football.

"Very contrast of personalities, but I got to thrive under both of them." Wistrom said the coaching staff's practices included live scrimmages Tuesdays and Wednesdays, with four full 11-on-11 stations going on simultaneously.

"You got a heck of a lot of reps," Wistrom said. "We were so well-versed in practice, so prepared to step on the field of play, that we won so many football games before we even stepped on the field."

Nebraska retired Wistrom's No. 98 jersey in 1997, and he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2009. Following his Husker career, Wistrom was the No. 6 overall pick in the 1998 NFL Draft.

Wistrom shared the story of how the night before the draft, a representative of the Dallas Cowboys called Wistrom and told him the St. Louis Rams would likely pick him, but that Dallas, with the No. 8 pick, wanted Wistrom and asked him to tell the Rams not to draft him. The Cowboys even had a plane waiting near Wistrom's hometown, in Joplin, Missouri.

"They were ready to go right then," Wistrom said. "I was like, 'Absolutely not.' That's not the type of person I am. If (the Rams) draft me, that's where I'm going."

However, Wistrom admitted he then would've rather played for "America's team" over St. Louis, at that time one of the worst teams in the NFL.

Wistrom, though, played nine seasons in the NFL and was a member of the St. Louis Rams team that won Super Bowl XXXIV.

"You just never know," Wistrom said, "how things are going to work out for you."

NEBRASKA ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME CLASS OF 2019

A group of seven distinguished Husker studentathletes and coaches make up the 2019 University of Nebraska Athletic Hall of Fame class. The 2019 class includes two special athletes and coaches who will be inducted as pioneers, four studentathletes and a coach.

RHONDA BLANFORD-GREEN Track & Field

Women's (1982-85)

Blanford-Green's Rhonda Nebraska career was synonymous with winning. She was a member of three national championship and the Huskers teams, swept both the indoor and outdoor Big Eight Conference titles every year of her career. Individually, Blanford totaled four individual national championships and was an 18-time Big Eight champion, including relays. team. On the volleyball court, Cepero was a threetime All-American. A two-time Big 12 Player of the Year, Cepero was the American Volleyball Coaches Association National Player of the Year in 2000. That season, Cepero guided Nebraska to a 34-0 record and was the Most Outstanding Player at the NCAA Tournament when the Huskers won the national championship. Cepero was also named the 2000-01 Big 12 Conference Female Athlete of the Year, and she was the conference freshman of the year in 1999. WES SUTER Men's Gymnastics (1983-86)

Wes Suter was an individual and team national champion, nation's top gymnast the and an Olympian during his decorated career. As freshman, Suter helped Nebraska to the 1983

NCAA team championship, the program's fifth consecutive national title. The Huskers finished in the top five at the NCAA Championships in each of Suter's four seasons, including first or second three times. Nebraska also won three Big Eight championships during Suter's career. As a junior, Suter had one of the most impressive seasons in NCAA history. He was the Big Eight all-around champion in addition to winning three of the six individual event titles. Suter then won three individual national titles at the NCAA Championships, where he was the NCAA all-around champion and also finished first on the floor exercise and on the high bar. As a senior,

Suter won the Nissen-Emery Award as the nation's top gymnast. He won a pair of Big Eight individual titles and was an All-American in the allaround and on parallel bars, finishing his career as a six-time Big Eight individual champion and fivetime All-American. Suter competed for the United States at the 1988 Olympics.

GRANT WISTROM Football (1994-97)

Grant Wistrom is one of the most decorated players in the history of Nebraska football.

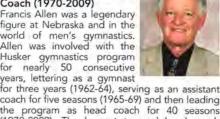

He was a member of three national championship teams his four seasons. After playing as a true freshman on NU's 1994 national title team, Wistrom was a third-team

All-American as a sophomore on Nebraska's 1995 national championship team. As a senior, Wistrom was a first-team All-American, Lombardi Award winner, Big 12 Conference Defensive Player of the Year and a team captain on the Huskers' 1997 national title squad. In his four-year career, Nebraska compiled a 49-2 record with three perfect seasons. Wistrom was a three-time All-American, a two-time first-team All-American and a two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year. One of five Lombardi Award winners in program history, Wistrom was a two-time first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American and an NCAA Top 10 Award winner. He is one of only two Husker football players to be a two-time first-team All-American on the field and in the classroom. Wistrom was also the 1997-98 Big 12 Conference Male Athlete of the Year. He totaled 206 career tackles with 58.5 tackles for loss and 26.5 sacks. Wistrom's No. 98 Jersey was retired by Nebraska in 1997, and he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2009. Following his Husker career, Wistrom was the No. 6 overall pick in the 1998 NFL Draft. He went on to play nine seasons in the NFL and was a member of the St. Louis Rams team that won Super Bowl XXXIV.

FRANCIS ALLEN Men's Gymnastics Head Coach (1970-2009)

Francis Allen was a legendary figure at Nebraska and in the world of men's gymnastics. Allen was involved with the Husker gymnastics program for nearly 50 consecutive coach for five seasons (1965-69) and then leading the program as head coach for 40 seasons (1970-2009). The longest tenured head coach in the history of Nebraska Athletics, Allen's achievements were staggering. He led the Huskers to eight NCAA team championships, including five consecutive titles from 1979 to 1983. In addition to the eight national titles, Nebraska finished as the NCAA runner-up seven times while posting a total of 20 top-five national finishes. His gymnasts also won 42 individual national titles, including nine NCAA all-around crowns, and claimed a total of 171 All-America awards. At the conference level, Nebraska won 14 team championships and produced 92 individual champions. Allen also coached four Nissen-Emery award winners as the nation's top gymnast and tutored 11 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. Allen himself was an eight-time national coach of the year. Internationally, Allen coached nine Olympians at Nebraska and served as the head coach of Team USA for the 1980 and 1992 Olympics, although the U.S. boycotted the 1980 Olympics. Allen began his affiliation with Nebraska as a Husker gymnast. He was the Big Eight champion on parallel bars as a senior in 1964 and was Nebraska's first All-American on that event the same year, finishing fourth at the NCAA Championships.

CAROL FROST

Female Pioneer (1976-80)

Carol Frost was a world-class athlete and one of the first female varsity coaches at Nebraska. She was also the first woman from Nebraska and the first Husker female student-athlete to compete in the Olympics, throwing the discus at the 1968 Mexico City Olympics. Frost achieved her Olympic dream despite competing during an era when women did not have equal access to training facilities. Frost trained for the Olympics while pursuing a double major in math and physical education at Nebraska, but she had no track and field team with which to train and the university's facilities were off-limits to women. Although she attended Nebraska before women's athletics had earned varsity status, Frost's accomplishments were so great that she was presented with an honorary letter in 2004. Frost won a gold medal in the discus at the 1967 Pan American Games - the same year she graduated from Nebraska - and she was a four-time U.S. champion in the event from 1966 to 1970. Frost returned to Lincoln as the Huskers' second women's cross country and track and field head coach in 1976 and coached both teams for four seasons. She led Nebraska to the first indoor and outdoor conference titles in Nebraska women's track and field history and posted three top-10 national finishes. Frost recruited Merlene Ottey, a 14-time national champion at Nebraska who set female track and field records by competing in seven Olympics and winning nine Olympic medals. Frost's efforts helped set the stage for Nebraska to win indoor national championships in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

ED WEIR Male Pioneer (1923-26, 1929-68)

Ed Weir was a two-sport Husker student-athlete who returned to coach two sports and serve as an assistant athletic director during his long and storied association with Nebraska Athletics. Weir was the first two-time All-

American in the history of Nebraska football, earning first-team accolades in both 1924 and 1925. One of the greatest players of his era, Weir was a member of the inaugural College Football Hall of Fame class in 1951, the first Husker inductee. Weir, whose No. 35 jersey has been retired at Nebraska, was also a standout on the track. Weir was a four-time conference champion in track, winning the 50-yard low and high hurdles at the 1925 Missouri Valley Conference Indoor Championships, the 50-yard high hurdles at the 1926 indoor championships and the 120-yard high hurdles at the 1926 outdoor championship. Weir was a member of five conference title teams in track and field, and he was on one conference championship football team. Following his Husker career, Weir spent three years in the NFL, winning a NFL championship in his first season in 1926 and serving as a player and coach in his final two seasons, compiling a 17-12-5 record. Weir returned to his home state to serve as an assistant football coach for 10 seasons (1929-37; 1943) and as an assistant track and field coach for 10 seasons (1929-38). He was named Nebraska's head track and field coach in 1939 and served in that role for 16 seasons, leading the Huskers to 10 conference championships from 1939 to 1954. Weir served as an assistant athletic director for 14 years (1955-68) following his coaching career. Nebraska's outdoor track and field facility, Ed Weir Stadium, was dedicated at the 1974 Big Eight Outdoor Championships.

A UNIQUE PATH TO BECOMING NU'S STARTING PUNTER By Taylor Riemersma, Nebraska Communications

The start of punter Isaac Armstrong's collegiate football career began a little differently than most others. When he was a recruit in high school, he was sought after by former Head Coach Bo Pelini and his staff.

But before he arrived on campus, Pelini and his staff were let go, making Armstrong's future in football uncertain. However, the Nebraska native wasn't keen on going anywhere else to play football, so he made the decision to stay at Nebraska.

In fall of 2015, Armstrong came to Nebraska as just a student. Not part of the football team, he decided to join a fraternity as a freshman.

However the following spring, former Head Coach Mike Riley gave Armstrong a chance to play for the Huskers and Armstrong joined the team prior to the 2016 spring season.

Armstrong served as the No. 2 punter for two seasons, but occasionally appeared as Nebraska's

However, Armstrong got his chance to have a bigger impact halfway through the 2018 season, making his collegiate punter debut last year against No. 16 Wisconsin.

Armstrong had two punts against the Badgers, booming a 59-yarder on his first career punt and then pinning UW inside the 15-yard line with a 49-yard punt.

That's all it would take for Armstrong to win the starting punter role. He started the final seven games and averaged 43.6 yards per punt, the second-best mark in the Big Ten and the ninth-highest average in NU history.

Armstrong earned All-Big Ten honorable mention accolades from the coaches and the media for his performance on the field.

For some, that first start might be the best memory or perhaps a specific game, but one of Armstrong's favorite things about playing for Nebraska happens before the first kick. The Tunnel Walk.

"It's a special experience each and every time," Armstrong said. "It's an experience you can't really explain."

After his football career, the child, youth and family studies major hopes to work as a special education teacher.

Armstrong has had a lifelong interest in learning about child development as he grew up in a household of teachers.

"I want to go into special education," Armstrong said. "Through that you learn a lot about different disabilities whether it be mental disabilities, physical disabilities, all kinds of stuff like that. Learning about childhood development from a young age is something I've always been interested in."

The guidance he's received from his family has shaped his future in an enormous way. Additionally, he's been influenced by a number of good teachers as well.

"[There's] too many to count," he said. "I've had a lot of good experiences with teachers. It's hard to choose just one."

Armstrong is on track to receive his degree in December and has plans to further his education. After graduation, he hopes to continue his education at UNL and take graduate courses in special education.

But before that, he has some mighty goals he wants to accomplish for the 2019 season.

"I think we should be the best specialist unit in the Big Ten," Armstrong said. "We're returning our snapper, kicker and punter. We've got some experience, so I think there's no excuse not to be the best unit in the Big Ten."

IN THE BIG TEN."

URBACH URBACH

LONG SNAPPER

BUSINESS AS USUAL FOR LONG SNAPPER CHASE URBACH By Matt Jesus, Nebraska Communications

The special teams unit is an important part of a successful program and Nebraska is no different. People tend to remember the place-kickers and the punters but not always the long snappers. Long snappers play an important role on both kick offs and punts.

Nebraska's senior long snapper this season is Chase Urbach, who is another success story of the historic Husker walk-on program. Urbach began his college career by redshirting, but eventually worked his way up. By the midpoint of his junior year, he had taken over Nebraska's primary long snapping duties.

In his final season, Urbach is the leading contender to start at that position and while it's a new season, his mentality has stayed the same.

"It's just business as usual for me honestly," Urbach said. "I'm not going to change a whole lot. I'm going to go out to practice every day, treat it like I normally do, and just run around and have fun with my team," Urbach said.

"As for our special team unit as a whole, it's basically the same," Urbach said. "As a group, me,

Urbach said. "As a group, me, [punter] Isaac [Armstrong] and [place-kicker] Barret [Pickering] are very relaxed and we just like to have fun out there. Of course, we want to be successful but we're not going to be putting a lot of pressure on ourselves. Just overall we're just going to be relaxed and we're going to get the job done."

The Michigan native made his collegiate debut in his own home state against the Wolverines last season - a special experience that ranks at the top of his favorite memories at Nebraska.

"It was such a cool experience, because it was back home for me and for that to be my first start was just an amazing experience and so fun," Urbach said.

After taking over primary long snapping duties, Urbach helped Armstrong post the ninth-best punting average (43.6) in school history in Armstrong's first season as Nebraska's punter.

Urbach is a man who loves his job, whether he's snapping to Armstrong for punts or Pickering for field goals, but he does have a slight preference.

"I always liked long snapping for punts more, only because I think punts are more fun," Urbach said. "All I have to do is snap the ball and then go hit someone. Field goals are also fun but it is more of a finesse thing. It's more accuracy. They both have their attributes to them but getting to hit someone is always fun."

Urbach got plenty of chances to get his hits in last season, recording three total tackles in 2018. Two of them came against Michigan and one in the home victory over Illinois, where he also recovered a fumble.

"IT'S JUST BUSINESS AS USUAL. WE'RE GOING TO GO OUT THERE THIS SEASON AND DO OUR THING."

- CHASE URBACH -

Urbach uses his talents and just makes the most of it every time he steps out onto the field - and people are noticing.

Earlier this month, Urbach was named to the Patrick Mannelly Award Preseason Watch List. The award honors college football's top senior long snappers and is named after Patrick Mannelly, who played 16 seasons with the Chicago Bears during his career.

"That's such a huge honor," Urbach said. "There are a bunch of studs from around the country on that list with me but that doesn't change anything. [I'll still be] doing the same thing that I always do but it is still a huge honor."

After earning his degree last May in advertising and public relations, Urbach had more time this summer to put it work and elevate his game - something fans, coaches and teammates will appreciate.

From walk-on, to starter to a preseason watch list, Urbach has grown and developed in his time as a Nebraska Cornhusker. But through it all, some things don't change. At the end of the day, Urbach has a job to do.

"Like I said, it's just business as usual," Urbach said. "We're going to go out there this season and do our thing."

JACKSON WALKER

PUNTER

WALKER'S LONG JOURNEY TO HIS CHILDHOOD DREAM By Francis Forte, Nebraska Communications

Many children in the Midwest grow up with the dream of playing football for Nebraska. With a father who attended the University of Nebraska, Jackson Walker was one of those kids. However, it seemed that his college football experience would be at the junior college level, rather than Memorial Stadium.

"Out of college I wasn't recruited very highly," Walker said. "The one place I was recruited was Coffeyville Community College. I went down there for a visit and ultimately got a scholarship, went down there for the summer and in the fall."

The Overland Park, Kan., native enjoyed his time in Coffeyville, Kan., but he knew that it was not the place for him. He transferred to his hometown community college, unsure if his future included college football.

"I decided to leave and enrolled at the community college in my hometown, Johnson County Community College," Walker said. "They don't have a football team, so I was there just going to school, deciding whether I wanted to play football or just be a student."

He would not stay away from the game for long though. He enrolled at the University of Kansas to receive a tryout. However, the atmosphere surrounding the program gave him the itch to transfer to Nebraska and give himself a chance to achieve a childhood dream of being a Husker.

"I was at KU in the fall of 2016 and I never really felt like it was a football atmosphere," Walker said. "I grew up a Nebraska football fan, my dad went to college here. This was ultimately the place I wanted to be at."

When Walker had a conversation with his mother about his decision, she immediately knew where the next step of her son's journey would lead him.

"I told my mom I wanted to transfer and she asked 'where?" Walker said. "I said 'You know where.' She asked 'Nebraska?' and I said 'Obviously.'"

Walker arrived in Lincoln and attended walk-on tryouts, where he earned a spot on the roster for the 2017 season. He still remembers the text message that officially made him a Husker.

"It was surreal," Walker said. "I just remember getting the text from Kenny Wilhite in the morning saying, 'We'd like to add you to the roster,' and I remember almost falling out of my bed and slamming my head on the wall because I couldn't walk. I was just in awe."

Two years later, Walker has never lost the sense of awe he had when he first strapped on the pads as a member of the Nebraska football team.

"I can't even put it into words, it's just been so much fun," Walker said. "I still have that feeling in the bottom of my stomach that I don't feel like I'm a football player, I feel like I'm just watching, but I'm actually doing everything. It's just so hard to put into words."

"BEING ABLE TO WEAR THE 'N'

... IS JUST HARD TO PUT INTO

WORDS BECAUSE THERE'S SO

MUCH TRADITION."

For him, wearing the 'N' has been a surreal experience. From transferring away from a scholarship at a community college to standing in front of 90,000 fans, Walker now wears the uniform of the team he dreamed of playing for.

"It's my childhood dream finally being fulfilled," Walker said. "I watched the guys who played before me, and now I'm in that position that I never thought I would be in. It's crazy."

Growing up a Husker fan has given Walker an added appreciation for the tradition of the program he plays for. He expressed how fortunate he is to be part of the Husker tradition.

"Being able to wear the 'N' and represent all the past generations of guys is just hard to put into words because there's so much tradition," Walker said. "There are so many great names that have been through this university and I'm somehow fortunate enough to be here."

NEBRASKA CELEBRATES 50 YEARS OF HUSKER POWER

Fifty years ago, Nebraska changed college football.

While some coaches across the country were kicking student-athletes off athletic teams for lifting weights, Nebraska took America's strength and conditioning program to another level. In 1969, NU became the first NCAA school to hire a strength and conditioning coach Boyd Epley.

Nebraska's Head Coach at the time, Bob Devaney, took a big risk in installing a strength training program for his players during the 1969 season, but after his 1968 team lost to Oklahoma 49-0 on national T.V., he was looking for something to turn things around fast. Devaney needed results, but warned Epley that if anyone got slower, Epley would be fired.

Well, getting slower wouldn't be a problem.

Former Husker and 1972 Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers dropped his forty-yard dash from 4.8 seconds to a solid 4.4 - by doing squats.

"We lifted weights in high school but when I got to Nebraska, I was taught how to get stronger, quicker, and faster without getting bulkier," Rodgers said." I was benching 300 pounds while still maintaining the flexibility of a gymnast."

Devaney's 1969 Huskers went on to beat Oklahoma 44-14 in Norman, Okla.

"We all owe a big part of our success to Boyd Epley, simply because we were all able to perform at the top of our game when the stakes were winner take all," Rodgers said. "We bypassed injuries because we were all strong and in world-class condition."

Devaney's success continued as his 1970 and 1971 teams won the National Championship.

"The results of Boyd Epley's work were swift and stunning: Nebraska won the national title one season after he started in 1969, and repeated as champion the following year. The Cornhuskers became the strongest team in the country," Sports Illustrated's Lars Anderson said in a March 2011 article.

The immediate impact strength training had on Nebraska's success sent tremors through the college football world. It was just the beginning though. Husker Power's legacy would live on.

"Nebraska fundamentally changed the way a football game is played because of its strength program," former Florida State head football coach Bobby Bowden said in the previously mentioned Sports Illustrated article.

Epley's concepts and ideas were revolutionary at the time, but no one could imagine the impact it would have on college football and athletic programs across the world.

Husker Power has produced certified strength and conditioning professionals across the world, including medical doctors, NFL, NBA, MLB and college head strength coaches.

This season, football players across the country are wearing a patch to celebrate 150 years of College Football, and Nebraska will also be celebrating 50 years of Husker Power.

Husker collects donations for flood victims

he flooding that devastated Nebraska during spring 2019 struck a chord with Katelyn Petersen.

The animal science student couldn't get the thought of the affected wildlife, animals, farmers and ranchers out of her mind. So, she scrapped her spring break plans and decided to help.

The Lyons, Nebraska native purchased milk replacer for the animals but realized her own contributions could only go so far. She started a GoFundMe page to share with her family and friends with the intention of raising $2,500. Within 24 hours Katelyn had raised $4,500 - enough money to fill an entire trailer with donations.

It was full of food for dogs, cats, chickens and horses, along with corn, oats, colostrum supplement, milk replacer, antibiotics, syringes and sedatives. But while it was her first trailer load, it wouldn't be her last.

Katelyn took more trailers full of salt and mineral blocks. all-purpose pellet feeds, fence posts, medications and veterinarian supplies to affected areas. At one point, she even received a donation of an entire semi-trailer load of feed from a company in Iowa.

For Katelyn, organizing the donations on her own was about the timing. She knew that eventually larger organizations would be able to come in and help, but it could take a while.

Katelyn Petersen stands with a horse trailer full of donations she collected.

"I wanted to do something then and was able to with being on spring break," she said. "The calf that lost its mother didn't have a week to wait to get colostrum or milk replacer. That rancher or pet owner didn't have time to figure out which roads he was going to have to travel to get feed or supplies, along with everything else going on."

It was simple for Katelyn. She saw the state that she was raised in and its animals in trouble and knew it was her time to help.

outstanding programs, developing long-term relationships and for doing what is best for his schools, its fans and most importantly, its student-athletes.

In less than two full years at Nebraska, Moos has hired eight Husker coaches, including high-profile hires in football and men's basketball. He drew universal praise for hiring national coach of the year Scott Frost as Nebraska's head football coach in December of 2017. Fifteen months later, Moos was lauded for another hire that made a major national splash when he tabbed Fred Hoiberg to lead the Husker men's basketball program.

In addition to hiring Frost during his first season, Moos hired Mark Hankins to coach the men's golf team and Sean Maymi to lead the men's tennis program. Hankins led Nebraska to its best conference finish since 1999 in his first season, while Maymi won as many Big Ten matches in his first year as the Huskers had won in the previous two seasons combined. Moos hired four more coaches during his second year, including former Huskers to lead the women's gymnastics (Heather Brink), rifle (Rachel Martin) and baseball (Will Bolt) programs. All three were among the most successful student-athletes in their sport's history, as Brink and Martin were both individual NCAA champions at Nebraska, while Bolt was a member of two College World Series teams. In 2019, Moos also tabbed Lisa Johnson to lead the women's golf team.

Moos has hired first-class coaches who fit his championship culture, one that he continues to instill within the department. In his first year, Moos watched the volleyball team win its fifth national title and second in three seasons, while bowling finished third at the NCAA Championships and both the men's and women's gymnastics teams, the rifle squad and the wrestling team posted top-10 NCAA finishes. Four of those six teams finished in the top 10 again in Moos' second season, highlighted by the volleyball team's national runner-up finish and another third-place performance by the bowling team.

Nebraska has also continued its excellence in the classroom, producing nine CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in Moos' tenure, including four first-team selections. The awards have increased Nebraska's nation-leading total to 338 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports.

Moos came to Lincoln after spending seven-plus years at Washington State (2010-17). He previously served 12 highly successful seasons as the athletic director at Oregon (1995-2007). During his time at his alma mater, Moos wasted little time in making his impact felt in Cougar Athletics, spearheading a department-wide rebranding effort with Nike while securing a 10-year, $35 million marketing rights agreement with IMG College. In addition, the 2004 WSU Alumni Achievement Award winner gained Regents approval for a $130 million addition and remodel of Martin Stadium, featuring a remodeled press box with luxury seating, including suites, loge boxes and club room.

Also included in the project was a state-of-the-art video board and an 80,000-square-foot football operations building that served as the stadium's showpiece and opened in May 2014. As the dean of Pac-12 athletic directors, Moos was at the forefront of the conference's procurement of a 12-year, $3 billion television contract with FOX and ESPN, a landmark agreement in college athletics, Under Moos' direction, the Cougar Athletic Fund's Annual Giving program saw an 81 percent increase in gifts while CAF donor members rose from nearly 4,000 to more than 7,500.

Additional facility enhancements under Moos included a center-hung video board in Beasley Coliseum that was installed prior to the 2011-12 season, giving Cougar basketball one of the premier fan experiences in the conference. An indoor golf hitting facility was also completed in early 2013, and Lower Soccer Field underwent a major renovation making the venue TV-ready while also providing one of the best playing surfaces on the West Coast, along with the addition of lights and a new scoreboard.

Other enhancements were made to the Moobery track facility, Bailey-Brayton Field, the basketball practice gym, Gibb Pool and the Simmelink Indoor tennis courts. In Moos' seven years at WSU, Cougar student-athletes and coaches accounted for 805 academic all-conference selections, 130 all-conference accolades, 45 All-America honors and three Pac-12 Coachof-the-Year honors.

Moos served as Oregon's director of athletics from July of 1995 to 2007. While at Oregon he oversaw a 17-sport athletic department that grew to national prominence during his tenure. Oregon's annual athletic department budget grew from $18.5 million in his first year to more than $40 million by 2007, becoming 100 percent self-sufficient during that time. Under his direction the Duck Athletic Fund donor base increased from 4,930 to 12,290, resulting in an annual gifts increase from $4.1 million to $15.3 million.

Moos initiated more than $160 million in facility improvements while at Oregon. Included in that was the $90 million Autzen Stadium renovation in 2002, which added 12,000 new seats, 32 new suites, a new Club at Autzen and a new press box to the stadium. In his 12 years, the Ducks ranked first in Pac-10 football attendance 11 times, reaching 100 percent capacity in each of those seasons.

During Moos' tenure, Oregon athletics captured 13 Pac-10 championships across six different sports. He increased opportunities for women by adding two intercollegiate programs, soccer and lacrosse, and negotiated an all-inclusive shoe and apparel contract with Nike, one of only 14 in the country at the time. From an academic standpoint during Moos' tenure, Oregon student-athletes collected 722 academic all-conference selections, 34 Academic All-America selections, nine NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipients and one NCAA Top Ten Award.

During his first stint as a collegiate athletic director at Montana (1990-95), Moos created an academic support program and hired its first athletic academic coordinator, developed a facility enhancement plan that created more than $4 million in improvements, and lifted the school's fund-raising efforts to show a 300 percent increase in private and corporate gifts. Academically, Montana student-athletes were equally successful as the athletic department achieved a graduation rate 20 percent higher than the general university enrollment. Under Moos' watch Montana garnered 269 academic all-conference selections, five Academic All-Americans and two NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipients.

Moos began his athletic career as an athletic administrator in 1982 as assistant athletic director at Washington State. He also served as the school's associate athletic director (1988-90). At Washington State, he was director of development for more than five years and associate director for nearly two years, supervising all external operations. Prior to that, he managed and owned private businesses in Washington and Oregon for eight years. He was a student assistant football coach at Washington State for the 1973 season, then spent part of 1974 in Washington, D.C., serving as a government intern.

Raised on a wheat and cattle ranch in eastern Washington, Moos attended high school in Olympia when his father served in the governor's cabinet. Moos earned his bachelor's degree in history from WSU and was a three-year letterman in football before concluding his collegiate career by representing Washington State in the 1972 East-West Shrine All-Star Game in San Francisco.

He served as co-captain on the Cougars' 1972 squad and garnered firstteam All-Pac-8 Conference honors. Moos and his wife Kendra have three daughters, Christa, Brittany and Kaiti; and two sons, Bo and Benjamin.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

BIG LIFE, BIG STAGE, BIG TEN.

Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been a priority for every Big Ten member institution. But maintaining the conference's standard of competing at the highest level in athletics also endures as an important component of the Big Ten experience. Striking that balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten's identity. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its students not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

PREMIER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all 14 Big Ten universities, which is widely considered to be the model for effective and voluntary collaboration among top research universities.

Every Big Ten Academic Alliance institution ranks among the top 65 universities in the nation according to the 2017 Academic Ranking of World Universities, including five in the top 25.

The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 1,800 Academic All-Americans, including 37 honorees during the 2018-19 academic year.

Big Ten Academic Alliance schools annually conduct $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

A HISTORY OF ATHLETIC SUCCESS

Big Ten schools have won at least five national championships in 24 of the last 25 years including an average of seven per year over the last 13 years.

Since the 2008-09 academic year, current Big Ten institutions have claimed 76 team national championships in 21 different sports.

BROAD-BASED PROGRAMMING

The Big Ten will administer over $200 million in direct financial support to more than 9,800 students competing in intercollegiate athletics for more than 11,000 participation opportunities on more than 350 teams in 42 different sports.

The Big Ten sponsors 28 official conference sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse in this decade.

The Big Ten leads the nation in total students competing in intercollegiate athletics and participation opportunities, and sponsors more official sports than all conferences except the lvy League.

Almost 1,400 Big Ten competitors have participated in the Olympics, winning more than 600 medals, including nearly 300 gold. In the 2016 and 2018 Olympic Games, more than 200 representatives from Big Ten institutions including current or former students and coaches were members of Olympic teams. Big Ten Olympians collected more than 50 medals in the most recent games in Rio and PyeongChang.

PASSIONATE FOLLOWING

The Big Ten leads all conferences with 5.7 million alumni and nearly 580,000 students.

Each year more than 11 million patrons attend Big Ten home contests, as the conference has led the nation in attendance for men's basketball, ice hockey, volleyball and wrestling.

LEADERS IN INNOVATION

The Big Ten Conference:

- Took part in the nation's first bowl game, winning the 1902 Rose Bowl Game, and signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl with permanent conference affiliations.
- Awarded the first Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915, honoring outstanding seniors who demonstrated excellence in academics and athletics.
- Formed the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, enlisting former students that competed in conference athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.
- Became the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.
- Implemented the first collegiate football system of instant replay in 2004, which the NCAA approved for use among all conferences in 2006.
- Launched the Big Ten Network (BTN) in 2007, the first national conference-owned television network.
- Began partnering with the Ivy League to study the effects of head injuries in sports in 2012.
- Accepted Johns Hopkins University as the conference's first sport affiliate members in men's and women's lacrosse in 2013 and 2015, respectively, and added Notre Dame as a sport affiliate member in men's ice hockey in 2017.

EXTENSIVE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

Through the Big Ten's current media agreements with BTN, ABC/ESPN, CBS and FOX, more than 2,000 Big Ten events are produced and distributed nationally and globally on an annual basis.

BTN is in almost 60 million homes across the United States and Canada, and is also available internationally via the Fox Sports App, delivering live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets. BTN Plus streams hundreds of additional events each season.

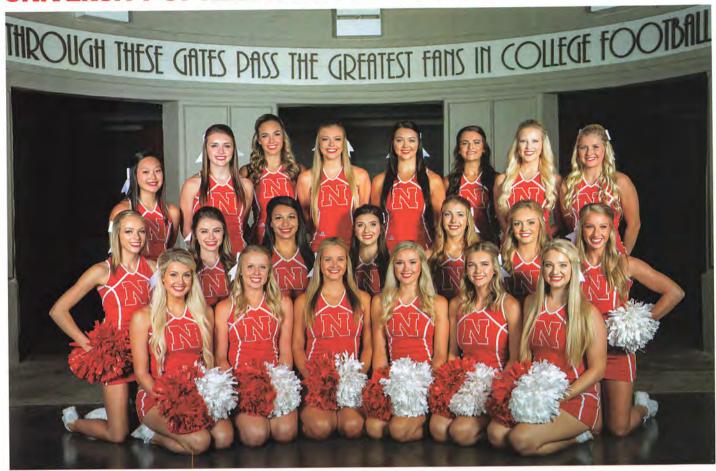

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

For more than 30 years, through the Big Ten's SCORE (Success Comes Out of Reading Everyday) program, the conference has partnered with Chicago elementary schools to improve reading performance.

Surrounding the Big Ten Football Championship Game and Basketball Tournaments, the conference has held numerous community initiatives, partnered with the College Football Playoff Foundation and other events such as the Big Ten Career Expo, SaturDAY of Service and Youth Football Clinics. In addition, the Big Ten has hosted a downtown 5K, collaborated with a local breast cancer awareness group and provided unique event experiences for military veterans.

LIL' RED & HERBIE HUSKER

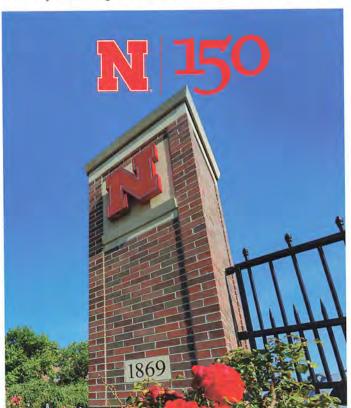

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA-LINCOLN ADMINISTRATION

The University of Nebraska–Lincoln is ranked in the top tier of national universities, a member of the Big Ten Conference and the flagship and land-grant university for the state. We believe in the power of every person. We don't rest on our strengths—we stretch them. Sweat them. Combine them. Growing flexible, nimble and strong minds. That's what it takes to do big things. This past year, the university passed $308M in total research expenditures across the campus, reflecting a 25 percent increase over the past decade. UNL is leading the way in fields such as food and water security, early childhood development and nanoscience. Our teaching, research and outreach activities grow the state's economy by $2.2 billion every year, and the number of Nebraskans who benefit continues to grow as we have set new records in number of graduates, research and commercialization of technology.

Nebraska's enrollment in the past three years has reached historically high levels. This past academic year, the university enrolled 25,820 students pursuing undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees. The university's student body was the most diverse in its history, with student scholars hailing from 136 countries around the world and nearly all U.S. states. Nebraska continues to see high levels of enrollment of first-generation students to campus, last year welcoming and supporting as "First Huskers" a total of 1,091 new first-gen students, nearly 23 percent of the first-year class.

Nebraska's campus is a community of creators and co-creators, where hard work and real experiences prepare our students not just to change the world, but to change with it. For example, through one of the nation's leading undergraduate research programs – one that is backed by more than one million dollars in annual funding – Nebraska students work directly with faculty on research that creates new breakthroughs, insights and real-world applications. Nebraska faculty and staff are dedicated to helping students get the most out of college, develop their strengths, and get the preparation they need to be nimble and successful in an ever-changing world.

In 2019, we are celebrating the 150th anniversary of our university's founding in 1869 and charting our bold new future.

UNIVERSITY BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents consists of eight voting members elected by district for six-year terms, and four non-voting student Regents, one from each campus, who serve during their tenure as student body president. The board supervises the general operations of the university, and the control and direction of all expenditures. The board also includes a corporation secretary who manages all records including agendas, minutes, notices, policies and bylaws. Those documents can be found on the web at nebraska.edu/board.

The board meets regularly, primarily in Lincoln but also in Omaha and greater Nebraska. Persons wishing to provide information to the board or to appear before it should contact: Corporation Secretary, University of Nebraska, Varner Hall, 3835 Holdrege, Lincoln, NE 68583.

RETIRED JERSEYS

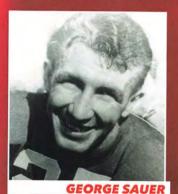

Following the 1949 season, the N Club voted to retire jersey No. 60 in honor of Tom "Train Wreck" Novak's stellar career with the Cornhuskers. Novak, the first Nebraska player to earn this honor, had been a four-time All-Big Seven choice and a 1949 All-American. Today, all major national award winners and College Football Hall of Fame inductees at Nebraska automatically have their jerseys retired, but their numbers will still be available to active Huskers.

SMARTER WNRKS HARNFR

Up to 60% of yield is dependent on crop nutrition. That fact is pretty impressive, but we think we can do even better. That's why Mosaic's focus is to explore and advance what's possible with crop nutrition - all in the pursuit of smarter products, smarter practices, and smarter business.

GROFF AGILL

The Proven Leader in Fertilizer Placement & Residue Management!

Talon Floater Row Cleaner

Competitors get less aggressive at the tips of their fingers, which means a lot of down pressure is needed to keep them from simply rolling over residue. This pressure can lift the planter row unit and move a lot of soil. The Groff Talon wheel gets more aggressive at the tips of the fingers, resulting in a superior row cleaner that moves residue and less soil, and requires less down pressure.
